Fieldwork summary

Client:	Íslandsstofa
Fieldwork period:	January 2017
Methodology:	Online
Sample:	Nationally representative. 18+ years of age in for Denmark, France, Germany and United Kingdom

Number of respondents

Denmark:	1006
France:	1005
Germany:	1047
United Kingdom:	2027

This seventh (near) annual “Travel destination Iceland” survey in Denmark, France, Germany and the United Kingdom reveals that views on Iceland as a travel destination have shifted considerably. For example, of the surveyed nationalities, between 9% and 20% say they would definitely consider travelling to Iceland during the months of September through April. This is a notable increase from previous years where this number has, since 2012, doubled in Germany, tripled in Denmark and France and quadrupled in the UK.

At the same time positivity towards Iceland as a travel destination keeps growing and is now measured at an all time high at near or over 70% in all markets surveyed. Furthermore an average of 30% of respondents in each country claimed an intent to visit Iceland within three years which is a five percentage point increase since 2015. In comparison, claimed three year travel intent for other destinations surveyed was 36% for Norway, 30% for Canada, 23% for Finland and 19% for New Zealand.

As in previous years, nature is what most people (70% on average) mention when asked what comes to mind when thinking about Iceland. This is a slight increase from last year.

Interestingly we see a significant shift in attitudes when asking about positivity towards Icelandic products. Whereas in past years a significant majority of respondents has stated indifference towards Icelandic products we are now at a point where more than half is taking a stance in all countries surveyed. What's more – a vast majority of views tend to be positive. As it currently stands, an average of 45% of respondents state indifference towards Icelandic products (compared to 51% in 2015 and 62% in 2011) and 54% say they are positive towards Icelandic products (compared with 46% in 2015 and 31% in 2011). Furthermore, skyr is fast becoming one of Iceland's best know product with 33% in Denmark, 13% in Germany and 20% in the UK mentioning skyr as the first Icelandic product they can think of. This is a huge change, especially in Germany and the UK where the product received a near 0% first mentions in 2015.

Similarly as in 2015, the attributes people most frequently associate with Iceland as a travel destination have to do with Iceland being a safe destination, a place to enjoy wilderness, stillness, purity, extraordinary landscapes and natural wonders. We also see that near 90% of those interviewed believe Iceland is not too far away to travel to. Interestingly there are also improvements on issues which previously had been identified as weak spots. For example 42% of the British and 20% of Germans now site Iceland as a good destination for a city break experience (up from 34% and 15% in 2015, respectively). A similar trend can be noted in Denmark and France although to a smaller degree.

ABOUT SEGMENTATION

- > Segmentation built on behavioural questions
 - I.e. questions regarding how people plan their travels and what is it that people like to experience
- > The goal is to isolate groups of people that have similar expectations
 - With aim to isolate groups that are likely to be interested in our product
- > Analysis revealed five groups of travellers
 - Three groups that are unlikely Iceland visitors
 - Two groups that are more likely to consider Iceland

THERE ARE SOME THAT ARE JUST NOT LIKELY TO VISIT ICELAND (63 out of 100)

- > The sun lovers
- > The holidaymakers (for whom travel is a more of a treat rather than a lifestyle)
- > The mainstream bargain travellers (families making a living)

WHAT THEY TEND TO HAVE IN COMMON (OVER OTHER GROUPS)

- > Prefer holidaying to warm and sunny destinations
- > Less positive towards travel to Iceland or other "off-track" destinations such as New Zealand, Canada, Norway or Finland.

WHAT SETS THEM APART (RELATIVELY)

THE SUN LOVERS (19%)

- > Do not like to travel independently or take holidays of the beaten track
- > Use internet and social media to get information about what's happening but do not use social media to share experiences
- > Not likely to visit any of the 5 travel destinations
- > Average income
- > Lowest propensity in France

THE HOLIDAYMAKERS (16%)

- > Likely to travel independently (and even off the beaten track)
- > Want to learn about culture and history of travel destination
- > Do not use internet to get information nor use social media to share experiences
- > Age above average (74% aged 45+)
- > Below average income
- > Few or no children in household
- > High propensity in Germany

MAINSTREAM BARGAIN TRAVELLER (28%)

- > Overall more negative towards travelling
- > Keen to use social media to share experiences
- > Tend to fall out to lower income brackets
- > Relatively young (53% under 45)
- > More likely to have children at home
- > Highest propensity in France

THEN THERE IS THE ENLIGHTENED TRAVELLER (37 OUT OF 100)

- > The Active Traveller
- > The Adventure Traveller

WHAT THEY TEND TO HAVE IN COMMON (OVER OTHER GROUPS)

- > Do not only want to go on holiday in warm an sunny places
- > Want to learn about the culture and history of the travel destination
- > Tendency to seek new travel destinations
- > Use the internet on a regular basis to get information about what's happening in the world
- > Tend to be positive towards Iceland and other "off-track" destinations such as New Zealand, Canada, Norway or Finland
- > On average higher income
- > Higher education (near 50% with University degree)
- > Tendency to travel abroad more often than the average person
- > Positive towards Iceland as a travel destination (81%+)
- > Likely to consider Iceland during winter season (61%+)
- > More likely to intend to visit Iceland (35%+ within 3 years)

HOWEVER WE FOUND THAT THERE ARE TWO TYPES OF THE ENLIGHTENED TRAVELLER

THE ACTIVE TRAVELLER (19%)

- > Age above average (62% aged 45+)
- > More likely to have few or no children in household
- > Do not use social media to share experiences
- > Want to travel independently and off the beaten track
- > Higher propensity in Denmark

THE ADVENTURE TRAVELLER (18%)

- > Younger than average (54% under 45)
- > More likely to have (young) children
- > High propensity to use social media to share experience
- > Not as keen to travel independently and off the beaten track
- > More likely to seek new travel experiences
- > Higher propensity in the UK and in Denmark
